

Mandating copy protection on HDTV will be a major step backward. If I can't record shows and watch them later, what good is HDTV? I have a Tivo, and watch about 90% of my TV from a recording. If I can't do this with HDTV I have no interest in it. Can you imagine a time when most (if not all) shows are not able to be taped? I don't think that this would be progress. Please think about what is in the interest of the public, not just the corporations. What restrictions does the average viewer WANT? I think the same restrictions we have now - none.
